

Let kids be kids no matter where they live.
Let Kids Live.

Every letter and thought, mistakes, screen print - write of a type -Writer by ms. Kelly Bee - 25-

Made in Milwaukee, WI

because doing our best is the least we can do.

When you have multiple interconnected values, you are probably managing many decisions. Each time you need to feed your family, or make a decision for a child in your life. Striving for perfection is impossible - but we can do a bit with our dollar and be a moral role model for our kids + extended families.

Adapt these phrases for every age stage + situation. We are moving and reacting on the fly all the time - so be ready!

ALWAYS REMEMBER:
it's o.k. to say "No"
When you talk to your kids like they are people, and tell them why.

create moments of giving...
Engage in as much mutual aid as you can in what ever capacity. It's a love capacity. It's a love capacity.

Other Ways To Fight Fascism With Your Kids:
a) READ. Use the public library, and let them see you reading, and give them radical books to power, so they can see 1 voice matters
b) Let them hear you speak truth as often as you can. Make that space for you too.
c) Create space for creativity themselves as often as you can. Adjust as they mature..
d) Let them make choices for themselves as often as you can. Adjust as they mature..
e) Encourage them to have, feel, and name their emotions. Help them to learn how to manage them.
f) SPEAK when no one else seems to be, and make sure they see you doing it!

By: Kelly Bee
@inclusivestorytime

Phases for your caregiver toolkit to adapt as kids grow up in today's world.

Managing Multiple BOYCOTS With Kids!

"I know that it feels like all your friends are going to that restaurant on Friday, but have you let them know what the owner said?"
"maybe you could suggest a different place."

"that sounds like an outfit we could try to thrift! I'll set aside some time this weekend to take you."

"I know that it feels like all your friends are going to that restaurant on Friday, but have you let them know what the owner said?"
"maybe you could suggest a different place."

"wow, it's pretty cool that influencer has a drink/bar... But, it's really important that we only spend our money with people who speak-up for Palestine."

"Adjusting to change is hard, I know, but soon we will get the hang of this and it won't feel so hard all the time, I promise."

KEEP it Simple.
+ focus + grace.
-think small -
-start local -
-think positive -
-Research the biggest offenders for the causes closest to you -Start with 1 thing.

the world's fire on even start??
How do we even start??
Put, HOW?
We can boycott for Palestine, Sudan, Congo, the environment, U.S. imperialism, human rights + more - they are after the same companies complicit in all of these global atrocities.

Boycotting can feel empowering when kids are involved with family decisions.
"yes, I hear you that you miss the muffins at these other grocery store. We don't shop there any more, but we can search for a copycat recipe!"
"since our family stopped buying things made in Israel, we will have to find a new soda maker, can you help me research?"
"hum... looks like this is made in the states, let's look on the shelf for a local swap, can you find it first?"
- NO ONE IS FREE UNTIL WE ARE ALL FREE -

Try A Thrift Rehab!
The big Squish Company has some great values. Next time, take a visit. Push home for a spa Day!!

It's o.k. to keep it positive + concise.
"you know those new croissants I got last week? The bakery has so many more treats, and I love that they host a lot of community groups! wanna check out the snacks there after school?"
"hey kids, wanna go check out the farmers market with me?"
"Yes darling I know it's hot and you want a muffin! We want to support our fav ice cream window, so let's go there now for some ice cream WITH STRAWBERRIES!"

Remember that kids are smart and understand injustice!
"Sweetheart? Can you help me out at the store today scanning items with the BDS app?"
"Wow, all the blueberries here are shipped from far away! Let's stop at the farmer's stand on the way home.!"
"oof, grocery shopping I feels tough lately! Our feels if our neighbors wonder the same? Maybe we feel the something and ease can make to share and taste load."
* free Palestine *
* free Congo *
* free Sudan *

Try A Thrift Rehab!

The big Squish Company has some great ethical values. Next time, take a visit. Push home for a spa Day!!

"Yes darling I know it's hot and you want a mcflurry! We want to support our fav ice cream window, so let's go there now for some ice cream WITH STRAWBERRIES!"

"You know those new croissants I got last week? The bakery has so many more treats, and I love that they host a lot of community groups! Wanna check out the snacks there after school?"

It's o.k. to Keep it positive + Concise.

"hey kids, wanna go check out the farmers market with me?"

"Sweetheart? Can you help me out at the store today scanning items with the BDS app?"

Remember that kids are smart and understand injustice!

"oof, grocery shopping I feels tough lately! wonder if our neighbors feel the same? Maybe we can make something and taste load."

"Wow, all the blueberries here are shipped from far away! let's stop at the farmer's stand on the way home."

* free palestine *

* free congo *

* free sudan *

KEEP it Simple + focus + grace.

- think small -
- think local -
- start slow -
- think positive -

Research the biggest offenders for the causes closest to you. Start with 1 thing.

But, HOW?

We can boycott for Palestine, Sudan, Congo, the environment, U.S. imperialism, human rights + more - they are after the same companies complicit in all of these global atrocities.

the world's FIRE

How do we even start??

"yes, i hear you that you miss the muffins at these other grocery store. We don't shop there any more, but we can search for a copycat recipe!"

Boycotting can feel empowering when kids are involved with family decisions.

"since our family stopped buying things made in israel we will have to find a new soda maker, can you help me research?"

"hum... looks like this is made in the states, let's look on the shelf for a local swap, can you find it first?"

- NO ONE IS FREE UNTIL WE ARE ALL FREE -

Phases for your caregiver toolkit to adapt as kids grow up in today's world

By: Kelly Bee @inclusivestorytime

Managing Multiple Boycotts With Kids!

"I know that it feels like all your friends are going to that restaurant on friday, but have you let them know what the owner said?"

"maybe you could suggest a different place"

"that sounds like an outfit we could try to outfit I'll set aside some time this weekend to take you."

human rights are not radical.

"now, it's pretty cool that influencer has a drink/bar... But, it's really important that we only spend our money with people who speak-up for palestine"

"Adjusting to change is hard, i know, but soon we will get the hang of this and it won't feel so hard all the time, I promise."

Let kids be kids no matter where they live. Let kids live.

because doing our best is the least we can do.

Every kid, and every parent, wishes a better print - a slice of the type - written by me, Kelly Bee. 25

Made in Milwaukee

When you have multiple interconnected values, you are probably managing many decisions each time you need to feed your family, or make a decision for a child in your life. Striving for perfection is impossible - but we can do a bit with our dollar and be a moral role model for our kids + extended families.

Adapt these phrases for every age stage + situation. We are moving and reacting on the fly all the time - so be ready!

ALWAYS REMEMBER:

it's o.k. to say "No"

When you talk to your kids like they are people, and tell them why.

create moments of giving...

Engage in as much mutual aid as you can in whatever capacity a child's individual capacity.

other ways to fight fascism with your kids:

- READ. Use the public library, and let them see you reading, and give them radical books to power, so they can see 1 voice matters
- Create space for creativity as often as you can. Make that space for you too.
- Let them make choices for themselves as often as you can. Adjust as they mature..
- Encourage them to have, feel, and name their emotions. Help them to learn how to manage them.
- SPEAK when no one else seems to be, and make sure they see you doing it!